AMERICAN TROOPS FACING THE GERMANS ON 6 SECTORS

Our Troops Now Holding Thirty-Nine Miles of Front

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, June 26.—Without outward celebration but with a deep inward sense of satisfaction the American nation today observed the first anniversary of the landing on French soil of American troops.
Twelve months ago today the first American division disembarked at a French port.

A year has seen the division grow to a fighting force of 900,000 men, which officials here are confident will reach a million men within a very few weeks. Of this number according to estimates made yesterday by Secretary Baker, 650,000 are fighting men and 250,000 non-combatants. Thirty-nine miles of front are being held by American troops.
Behind the approximate million in France or enroute there, another million men are in camps equipped and eager to move. Calls issued under the selective draft law will soon add a third million.

Twelve months have thus witnessed the transportation to France over 3,000 miles of ocean of a fighting force of 900,000 men, which officials here are confident will reach a million men within a very few weeks.

The first anniversary found American troops facing the Germans on six different sectors, including portions of the front in Picardy, in Flanders, on the Marne, in Alsace and on the original Toul sector at the right of the French line. While the offensive operations of the Germans have made it necessary to draw the American troops away from their first assigned front in the region of Toul, the plan for America as worked out by the Allied supreme war council as recent events disclose calls for the taking over of the entire right flank of the western front with the French in the center and the British on the left.

The feeling of officials here upon the first anniversary were summed up in the following statement from Secretary Baker:

"The achievements of the past year have been entirely satisfactory."

FORMER HEAD OF D. A. R. INDICTED

New York, June 26.—Following an investigation of the financial activities of the National Emergency Relief Society, Mrs. William Cunningham Story, former director general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was indicted here today on charges of grand larceny, petit larceny and conspiracy.

Mrs. Story is president of the relief society.

The indictment names Mrs. Story and her sons, Sterling and Allen, as co-defendants in the conspiracy allegations which form two counts in the bill.

Mrs. Story is also a prominent member of the Colonial Dames.

Mrs. Story, as head of the society, is charged with countenancing an arrangement whereby a solicitor named William Garland Brown, was given half of whatever contributions he obtained for the organization's soldiers' comfort kit fund when it is alleged, representations were made that the society had no commission for such solicitation.

In a statement today District Attorney Swann declared his questioning of Brown seemed to show that 20 per cent of the money he received went to Sterling Story. Brown's portion of the funds, Swann said, amounted to about $3500 up to March 23, this year, and up to that date he had given approximately $700 of this amount to Sterling Story.

PICNIC CHICKEN CAUSES ILLNESS

Windsor, Ont., June 26.—Nearly 1,000 persons here are reported to be ill today as a result of having eaten chicken pies, which are said to have been served at a picnic at the St. Jean de Baptiste Society held near here Sunday. More than 5,000 persons attended the picnic. None of the cases reported are serious.

RAISING OF AGE LIMIT OPPOSED BY OFFICIALS

Sufficient Men Available And Subject to Call For Army's Service

FAVOR REDUCTION OF AGE LIMIT RATHER THAN RAISING

Claims That Better Fighting Men Could Be Secured

Washington, June 26.—Secretary Baker and General March, chief of staff, informed the Senate military committee today that they opposed as premature and unnecessary the proposed extension of the army draft age limits.

Provost Marshal General Crowder, whose approval of the extension has been cited by advocates of the change in the Senate, also appeared before the committee to say that while he was not insistent upon immediate legislation he thought action should be taken in time to secure new registrants under the revised age limits early next year.

The army officials attended a meeting of the committee just before the Senate convened to continue consideration of the army appropriation bill with amendments pending to change the age limits.

General March and Mr. Baker said sufficient men are available and subject to call from the first registration, the re-classification now in progress and from the 800,000 new registrants of the 1918 class for the army's requirements during the next few months. General opinion of the army general staff conforms with this view, General March said.

Most of the Senators who heard the statements believed Congress would follow the recommendations.
If Congress insists upon immediate legislation Secretary Baker, General March and General Crowder were agreed the minimum age limit of 21 should be lowered to secure younger men for military service rather than to make any extensive raise in the maximum age limit by which older men would be secured.
They told the committee that more and better fighting men would be

London, June 26.—Former Premier Kerensky is on his way to America.

Ex-Premier Kerensky has been in London for several days. He has kept in retirement, however, and few Russians have been aware of his arrival. His health is bad and those who have seen him say he has gone through remarkable adventures in escaping from Russia.

The presence of Kerensky in London is known to the British government, as it is impossible under the present strict passport regulations for any alien to enter the country without the government knowing of it.

Kerensky told the labor conference delegates:

"I have just come straight from Moscow and it is my duty as a statesman and a socialist to tell you and the people of the world that the Russian people, the Russian democracy, are fighting against tyranny.
I believe, indeed, I am certain, that the Russian people will shortly join you in the fight for the great cause of freedom."

KERENSKY LAST HEARD OF SIX MONTHS AGO

Washington, June 26.—London dispatches today reporting Alexander Kerensky there and on his way to the United States, besides bringing the first definite information of the former Russian dictator's whereabouts since he was deposed over night months ago, opened a wide field of speculation on the purposes of his visit here. Various reports as to his coming have been reported as dying or dead and always a fugitive from the Bolsheviks, nothing is known here of how Kerensky, hailed by many as a man of destiny, managed to make his way out of Russia.

Arriving in London at a time when the entire governments are the United States are considering as a foremost question how they shall aid Russia to release herself from the German yoke, Kerensky's visit is regarded by many officials and diplomats as having large possibilities.

Whether his sudden appearance in London and his coming visit to the United States have been arranged in connection with the consideration of the Russian situation does not appear on the surface.

On Nov. 1, 1917, Kerensky, while acting as premier, made the sensational statement that Russia was worn out by the war and that the Allies must therefore shoulder the burden of the struggle.

Kerensky's flight from Novo Tcherkassk, the capital of the Don Cossacks, last December, was the last authentic report of his whereabouts until his arrival in London.

SESSIONS OF STATE CONVENTION CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS PROVING ENJOYABLE AND INSTRUCTIVE

The state convention of Christian Endeavors is now in full swing and interesting sessions are taking place.
This afternoon session, which was held in the First Methodist church, was crowded and all present were highly entertained.

The song service was in charge of Charles M. Alexander, and an address by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, D. C., was one of the severely enjoyable features. His theme was "Problems Ahead in War and Peace." This was followed by the general secretary's period and the intermediate period.

A recognition service for Ohio boys in the national service was then held and the dedication of the service flag, in charge of Rev. J. J.
Tisdall of Columbus.

There were also intermediate sessions this afternoon at the Central Church of Christ. At 5 o'clock there will be a junior workers' banquet at the Second Presbyterian church, and at the same hour a missionary tea at the First Presbyterian church. This evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be a song service under the direction of Mr. Alexander, and an address by Mrs. Charles Alexander, founder of the Pocket Testament League.
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Brooklyn, N. Y., will also address the Endeavorers.

On Thursday morning there will be departmental conferences at the high school, beginning at 8:30 o'clock; also, intermediate sessions at the Central Church of Christ. In the afternoon there will be a parade of all delegates, marching from the high school east to the courthouse, around square to West Main street to Moundbuilders park, for open-air citizenship rally. There will be an address by the Hon. Frank B. Willis, ex-governor of Ohio, after which there will be an athletic field meet, with contests between representatives of societies and unions. On Thursday evening there will be a great missionary rally at the First M. E. church, and the annual banquet of the alumni association will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 9:30 o'clock.

The opening session of the state Christian Endeavor convention which will continue in this city until Friday evening, was held at the First M. E. church, which was filled to the doors with an enthusiastic crowd of Endeavorers.

The session was opened with a song service under the direction of

LARGEST NUMBER OF MEN SUMMONED SINCE DRAFT LAW

Washington, June 26.—Additional white and colored draft registrants numbering 124,527 have been summoned to the colors for general military service, according to announcement today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Mobilization will take place at intervals during the month of July. From July 15 to 19, whites numbering 21,257; from July 16 to 20, colored, 47,000 and from July 21 to 24, colored 25,911. This call, combined with that for 220,000 that was mobilized July 22 to 27 and with several special calls, will remove 367,861 men from civilian life during July. This number is the largest summed in any one month since the draft law became operative.

WARN SHIPPING OF ENEMY ACTIVITY

Washington, June 26.—Shipping operating in the area east of longitude 40, between latitude of Cape Race and Bermuda, has been warned of enemy activity, the navy department today announced.

"The government on yesterday evening issued a war warning to shipping operating in the area east of longitude 40, between latitude of Cape Race and Bermuda," said the announcement.

No explanation was given, but a report of a German raider in that vicinity was brought to an American port yesterday by an incoming steamer.

At the navy department it was explained that the warning was founded upon reports reaching the department but which had not been confirmed. It was sent as a matter of routine in order that shipping might be on the alert.

SLAUGHTER OF AUSTRIANS WAS TERRIBLE SIGHT

Italian Army Headquarters, Tuesday, June 25.—Under the fire of Italian machine guns and artillery, which were brought up rapidly, the Austrian withdrawal across the Piave soon became a disorderly rout.
It is estimated the Austrian losses total more than 200,000.

It was a terrible sight as the maddened Austrians fled under the deluge of Italian bullets and shells.
They leaped into the river and grabbed pieces of wood or anything that would aid them; they tied themselves to mules and horses, but their efforts were in vain, for as the enemy troops reached the opposite bank they were again caught by the fire of Italian guns, which had been trained accurately on the eastern bank for some days.

On the Montello the slaughter was terrible. Bodies of Austrian troops were mowed down almost in their tracks. At the crossing at Nerves-both banks of the river were strewn with dead and dying while hundreds of bodies were rushed down into the current to the sea.

At one place the correspondent counted 300 bodies while walking a distance of half a mile.

AN ATMOSPHERE OF GLOOM DURING THE REICHSTAG DEBATE

Amsterdam, June 25.—There was an utter absence of enthusiasm in the Reichstag debate, says a Berlin dispatch to the Handelsblad. Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann had hardly begun to speak when it became so dark in the house that the deputies could hardly be distinguished from the press gallery.

This atmosphere of gloom, it is added, was symptomatic of the entire speech and its reception, especially the foreign secretary's reference to the prolongation of the war.
Chancellor von Hertling and Vice Chancellor von Payer sat on either side of the foreign secretary.

WOULD WELCOME MILITARY ACTION BY THE ALLIES

Washington, June 26.—John Sookline, a member of the Russian commission sent to the United States by the Kerensky government a year ago and now just back from Paris, said today that he had been in touch with sentiment in Russia and learned that the people now would welcome military action by the allies to save the country from Germany, though a few months ago such action would have been intolerable.

BRILLIANT ATTACK OF AMERICANS LAST NIGHT ON THE GERMAN LINES

CAPTURED 216 PRISONERS ON THE MARNE FRONT TOGETHER WITH A LARGE NUMBER OF MACHINE GUNS AND MUCH OTHER BOOTY

GERMANS WHO WERE BROUGHT IN PAY TRIBUTE TO AMERICANS WHO FOUGHT LIKE DEMONS

Fierce Hand-to-Hand Encounters Took Place in Belleau Wood While the Clearing Process Was Being Carried Out, the Enemy Having Planted Machine Guns Behind Boulders, in Sunken Roadways, Shell Holes and Trees—Our Troops Now Holding Considerable Front In Three Different Sectors in Alsace—Splendid Work of the American Artillery of Invaluable Assistance.

With the American Army in France, June 26.—In an attack upon the German lines on the Marne front last night the American troops extended their line northwest of Belleau wood. Up to 10 o'clock this morning 216 prisoners had been counted, together with a number of machine guns and other booty. Additional prisoners are coming in.

The attack was preceded by a 13-hour bombardment from the American artillery.

German prisoners taken pay tribute to the brilliant dash of the Americans, declaring the men in the assaulting party fought like demons.

The Germans were virtually cleared out of Belleau wood several days ago, but the discovery was made yesterday that under cover of darkness they had planted machine guns behind huge boulders, in sunken roadways, in shell-holes, and in trees in a narrow area on the edge of the wood. It was most difficult to get at them in these positions, and some fierce hand-to-hand fighting occurred during the night while the clearing process was being carried out.

The new sector held by American troops in Alsace is in the region northwest of Gelweiler. This sector is not far from the famous Hartmanns-Weilerkopf, the scene of so much hard fighting in the past.

The Americans now are holding a considerable front in three different sectors in Alsace.

The Americans now are in possession of virtually all the valuable tactical positions in the Belleau wood sector. Most of the prisoners taken belong to the 347th German division.

On Sunday the Germans placed the crack 201st division opposite a portion of the American line. Despite this the Americans went through in steam-roller fashion.

The Germans also had attempted on Sunday to fill the wood with gas, but the determination and prowess of the Americans could not be checked.

The American artillery again brilliantly carried out its part in throwing the entire German line into confusion. Prisoners said that the positions from which they had been taken was like an inferno under the American fire. They were happy to get out alive.

AMERICANS TAKE OFFENSIVE

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.) American troops have again taken the offensive northwest of Chateau-Thierry, where they have already written a glorious chapter in the story of American participation in the war. The operation in which the Americans were engaged is mentioned but briefly in the daily communique of the French war office, but it would seem to indicate that the Americans have been in quite a notable engagement.

Prisoners to the number of 150 were taken in the action, which is said by the French to have been "brilliant." Among the Germans captured was a captain.

The French official statement said that this is the number of captives "so far counted," which may mean that the operation is still going on, or that the full story has not as yet been told.

Local operations along the French and British fronts are officially reported. Prisoners and machine guns were taken by the allies in these, which appear to have been no more than outpost encounters.

Baron von Seydler, the Austrian premier, has declined to continue in office and form a new cabinet. It is reported that Baron Banhans, minister of railways in the von Seydler cabinet, will receive the appointment.
The Austrian parliament, which was dissolved when the economic situation became critical in that country, may be convoked, it is believed, with a restricted program for its proceedings.

The food conditions in Austria were admitted to be serious during the discussions of the meeting of crown council at which Baron von Seydler announced he would retire from office. It was stated there that Emperor Charles was personally addressing the German emperor on the subject.

Alexander Kerensky, the former provisional premier of Russia, who was ousted from power by the Bolsheviki, has arrived in London. His reappearance from seclusion may be the prelude of interesting developments in the Russian situation.

Now that the Piave line is again intact, the Italians have begun operations on the mountain front looking to the further improvement of the positions there. On the northwestern slope of Monte Grappa, between the Brenta and the Piave, the Italians have gained considerable ground and taken more than 1300 prisoners.

Italian attacks on the mountain front probably are for the purpose of forestalling any intended enemy effort there as well as to improve the Italian positions. Strong raids are being carried out also on the Asiago plateau. The Italian gain on Monte Grappa, however, is most important as the mountain is the key position to the terrain between the Brenta and the Piave and dominates the hills southward to the Venetian plain. It was on this height that the Austrians met with failure their attempts 10 days ago to reach the plain from the north.

In completing the capture to the western bank of the Piave the Italians added 1500 prisoners to the already large numbers taken from the enemy. While the sudden rise of the river distressed the Austrians who had crossed to the western bank of the river during the enemy retreat, again has risen, hampering the Italian pursuit on the eastern bank. Apparently the Italians have been content to hold to strong bridgeheads on the eastern bank rather than to attempt to pursue the enemy any distance eastward.

Vienna officially places the Italian losses at 150,000, including 50,000 prisoners. It admits the retirement across the Piave from Montello to the Adriatic, but intimates that the Italians did not press the retiring Austrians very closely. In their ef-orts on the mountain front, it is added, the Italians were repulsed completely.

Raiding operations continue on the front from Switzerland to the sea, especially between Tyres and Rehms, where further heavy fighting undoubtedly will take place. German soldiers are reported as being depressed over the Austrian defeat, and it is held in some allied quarters that Germany may make a strong effort almost immediately in order to keep up the German and Austrian morale behind the lines.

Apparently Germany has given up hope of reaching a decision on the

DECLINES TO CONSTITUTE A NEW CABINET

London, June 26.—Baron von Seydler, the Austrian premier, announced on Monday that he had declined the invitation of Emperor Charles to constitute a new cabinet, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

The premier's decision was announced at a meeting of the crown council in Vienna, at which the food situation which was unanimously recognized as critical, was discussed.
Emperor Charles announced that he was personally addressing Emperor William in connection with that situation.

SERVICE STRIPES FOR 500 AMERICAN SOLDIERS

(Associated Press Correspondence) Paris, June 14.—Two gold service stripes, indicating a whole year's service in the zone of the advance of the allied armies, are now being worn on the left arm by nearly 500 American soldiers.

They include members of the Cleveland base hospital unit, the first American unit to land; the Harvard base hospital unit, and the officers and men arriving here at the time of General Pershing's embarkation, June 13, 1917. The Cleveland unit arrived in France on May 25, 1917, and the Harvard unit eight days later.

THE CAMP SHERMAN STOCKADE IS READY FOR THE GERMANS

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., June 26.—The big stockade, where 100 German prisoners will be kept, has been completed by conscientious objectors of the cantonment, it was learned today.

The prisoners, according to word from the general staff at Washington, can be expected here almost any time. The Huns will be under the supervision of the reclamation department of camp. Government officials at Washington will supply the guards. The stockade was completed at little cost to the government, the conscientious objectors being very willing to do the work.

The building proper will accommodate 100 Germans. It is surrounded by barbed wire entanglements and electric wires. Under the direction of the reclamation officers it was erected near Section R, a short distance from the Scioto river on the east side of camp and near the 50 acres of war garden, which will be turned over to the prisoners.

Many of the acres are devoted to corn and potatoes and the Huns will be expected to harvest the crops. The war garden has proven a money maker for the camp so far. Over 5,000 bushels of onions have been sold to mess outfits through camp. More Ohio and Indiana selects reached camp today and they were assigned to the training battalions as follows: Third battalion: Marietta, 151; Athens, 113; Logan, 22; McArthur, 28; Pomeroy, 53; Gallipolis, 109; Total, 509.

Fourth training battalion: Jackson, 129 men.

The last of the selects in the draft of June 24 will reach camp late this week, bringing the camp population back above the 35,000 mark. There were unconfirmed reports about camp today that 15,000 trained soldiers were to be sent here, to fill the gaps in the ranks of the 84th Division.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

New members of the $1,000 War Savings Society: Consumers Brewing Co., Newark; A. P. Hess, Newark; Mrs. Laura Seville, Johnston; Charles P. Fleming, Hanover; B. G. Smythe, Newark; Dr. W. B. Nye, Newark. The purchase of 200 $5 W. S. S. costing in June $344 makes a member of the "Limit Club." In Licking county a few more than 200 people are now members of the $1,000 club.

In sixteen Ohio counties homing pigeons will be released at 2:30 Friday afternoon to carry War Savings reports to state headquarters. The Licking county report will be sent from the court house square at 2:30, June 28.

War Savings Stamps can't go below par. Uncle Sam guarantees the price and you can get back every dollar you put into W. S. S. any time you need it. You get interest, too. Uncle Sam is asking hundreds of thousands of men to give their lives to their country. He is asking you only to LEND your money. What are you lending?

Some who are not buying War Savings Stamps because they "can't afford it" are at the same time able to afford many personal luxuries. The buyer of W. S. S. is giving nothing away. He is only saving his money and loaning it at a fat rate of interest to the government.

CASE DISMISSED IN POLICE COURT

In police court this morning Mrs. Devina Markham, who was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, was dismissed for want of prosecution.

Dave Williams, colored, is having affidavits piling up on him, faster than he can clear himself. Yesterday afternoon in a hearing before Mayor Atherton he was bound over to the common pleas court in the sum of $50 on a charge of assaulting Augustus Lott. He was out on bond at the time charged with stealing a Kresge store. Not satisfied with this he started after his aggressor, Lott, last night and the latter appeared in court this morning filing another affidavit charging assault.

No, Maude, dear: when troops change their headwear it isn't necessary because they are looking for a handcap.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES WERE ENJOYED BY KING AND QUEEN

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, June 26.—King George and Queen Mary tasted American buckwheat cakes for the first time yesterday at the Eagle Hut of the American T. M. C. A.

The visit was a surprise one, made at the king's own suggestion. The king explained to the secretary that he had heard so much about the Eagle Hut that he was determined not to go another day without seeing it.

"Our boys are shy and you have good things to eat," he said, smiling toward the tables where a row of Americans were devouring sandwiches and pancakes.

"What is the most distinctive American dish you have here?" he said. "I want to sample it."

The Y. M. C. A. secretary did not have to think a minute before he answered: "Buckwheat cakes is the best thing we have."

The king and queen sat down at an oilcloth-covered table beside a group of khaki-clad American aviators and a couple of American blue jackets. Each ate a plate of buckwheat cakes hot from the griddle, with a generous covering of genuine maple syrup. Both finished their portions, politely refused a second helping, but declared themselves in favor of the adoption of buckwheat cakes into the British national menu.

SESSIONS OF STATE C. E. CONVENTION

Charles M. Alexander of Philadelphia. Mr. Alexander asked if there were any young men who would be willing to sing the verse of "Give Your Heart to Jesus. He Is Calling You," and there was a hearty response from four young men who were given pocket Testaments for their singing.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Herbert Ure of Columbus, who made some very impressive remarks, stating that some of the keynotes to be sounded during the convention were such as gladness, happiness, gentleness, honest thinking and harmony. The addresses of welcome followed: From the Endeavorers of Newark and Licking county, by Dr. C. G. Hazlett; Dr. L. C. Sparks welcomed the Endeavorers on behalf of the 26 churches in the city. Mayor Atherton gave the welcome from the city of Newark and assured the local committee that the powers of his office were at their disposal.

Rev. J. J. Tisdall of Columbus then gave an enthusiastic response and assured the local committee that the Ohio Endeavorers appreciated the most hearty welcome given them. Mr. Sibley, president of Ohio Christian Endeavor, introduced the state officers and Dr. C. H. Hazlett introduced the members of the local convention committee.

Rev. Charles R. Sine, vice-president of Ohio C. E., gave a splendid address and appealed to the young people to respond to the challenge from their home communities and to make great progress in these days. The first session closed with a musical entertainment by Mr. Alexander, assisted by Mr. Voke, pianist, Albert Brown and G. W. Cook, soloists. At the close of the opening session, every Endeavorer was assured that there were great times ahead of them during the convention in our city.

Coming a mistake on the part of the local chairman of the convention committee the name of Mr. J. W. Shannon was omitted when the local committee was introduced. It is regretted that this omission occurred as Mr. Shannon was one of the faithful workers who was always on the job.

The big parade is scheduled for 10 o'clock instead of 1:30 as previously announced. Kindly bear this in mind. S. H. Beadle has been selected as the grand marshal of the parade. The place of Capt. C. W. Miller, who will be absent from the city. Mr. Beadle will make a splendid commander-in-chief.

PERFECT WOMANHOOD.
Perfect womanhood depends on perfect health. Beauty and a good disposition both vanish before pain and suffering. A great menace to a woman's happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some functional derangement which soon develops headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues." For such suffering, women can help in one way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for three generations has been restoring health to women of America.—(Adv.)

JUDGE KYLE WILL SOON DECIDE THE NATURAL GAS CASE

In the case of the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel Co., vs. the City of Newark, Clerk of Court Leo T. Davis has forwarded to Judge Chas. H. Kyle, at Xenia, the common pleas judge who heard the case, the pleadings, briefs of counsel and the exhibits which were offered in evidence on the trial.

After Judge Kyle has considered the case he will send his decision to Clerk Davis. This is the suit which was brought by the gas company to determine the ownership of that portion of the gas escrow fund arising from the sale and consumption of gas in this city between August 1, 1915 and March 23, 1916. The amount remaining in the hands of Walter C. Metz, receiver, for distribution is $29,434, which will either go to the gas consumers or to the gas company, according as the courts decide to whom this money belongs.

Tomorrow is the last day for the registration of alien enemy women and the registration at the patrol as required by the government has been small.

A large quantity of photographs, maps and guide books are desired. Address Colonel A. B. Cox, 1156 15th St., Washington, D. C.

The Treasury Department has authorized the following statement: "Chain letters, which in the past have been used to get funds for worthy purpose and for some unworthy ones, have been started by some enthusiastic workers for the sale of War Savings Stamps. The Treasury Department has officially disapproved their use, and the National War Savings Committee wishes the public to understand that these letters were not instigated by the national committee." Another series of chain letters is being circulated "For the purpose of founding a special hospital in France for the treatment of wounds in the face and jaw." The government discourages the use of chain letters of all kinds.

But it was thought the support of the war would be more nearly unanimous if it could be placed on a basis of absolute square dealing. The moment you allow a lot of grafters to enrich themselves, you undermine the morale of the people.

As a result of this stand, the scandals attaching to this war seem at this writing to be of relatively little importance, though the chances for fraud are a thousand times what they were in any previous war. It is one more reason for the feeling that the men in charge of things know what they are doing, and are basing their work on sound principles that in the long run will show their effectiveness.

The landlady is convinced that the boarders should not have meat that is too tender, as they don't get chewing exercise enough to develop the teeth.

WAR TEMPTATIONS.
(Philadelphia Record.)

There is no reason why any American should feel perturbed because it has recently been discovered that some conscienceless and thrifty pickers have been trying to make easy money by seeking to give small manufacturers the impression that if they wish to secure government contracts they must pay a commission to these self-appointed intermediaries. These rascals flourish in days of peace no less than in war. Now that Uncle Sam is dealing in billions it would be a great wonder if they did not bob up with their lying stories of strong influence with Federal officials who probably never heard of them. There is nothing peculiar to the United States in this. Let us refer to the experiences of another country, as related by one of its own citizens:

"The principal evil is bribery. It may be in some cases a harmless tip, or it may be direct bribery, such as would be punished in times of peace; but in a single payment, or it may be a regular share in profits. In many business circles this bribery of employees has become a regular feature, and without it it is impossible to get either a contract or a delivery. A business man who wants to get a contract from the government, or who needs to have raw materials released or fuel delivered, or who wants to get quick railway service or preferment in an account, finds it advisable to invest a few yellowbacks where they will stimulate the interest and activity of the proper party."

To what nation does this refer? Why, to that simple minded, honest, innocent old Germany, where everybody is so efficient, and no one would ever think of turning a dishonest penny. The accused is one Heinz Potthoff, and his indictment appears in the magazine, Die Hilt. In his article, which bears the very suggestive title, "The Decline in Economic Morality in Germany," he also quotes "a very respectable and prominent merchant" as saying: "The man who doesn't get rich in this war ought not to survive it."

So far as the United States is concerned, this war is incomparably the cleanest, so far as money considerations go, in which it has ever engaged. The prompt way in which the commission brokers were exposed is proof of the care taken to protect honest contractors. Almost inevitably war creates temptations and relaxes the moral fibre in the avaricious. That is true of all the belligerent nations. Probably this temporary weakening is less in Germany than elsewhere. Certainly, we have no reason to fear a comparison with Germany, if Herr Potthoff's sweeping accusations can be believed.

Next Thursday the senate will vote on suffrage. The women think they have won the day. We hope they have. We are much interested in how the Ohio senators stand upon this issue. We can hardly think they will turn their backs on the women who are doing so much to save this republic from German autocracy. If it wasn't for them what would become of us in this war? We should be ruined. But outside all questions of mere contingency, we want women to vote because they will bring honor, purity, virtue, morality into politics and these things we need more than anything in the world. Of course, there are some people who do not believe enough in women to believe that. But we do; and we see that President Wilson does. The women who want the vote should have it, and it is nothing more than common justice to let them have it. There are none who love their country more than they do; and there are none who sacrifice more for it.

At wartime prices every man wants to get his money's worth, but cheap notoriety is dear at any price.

THE government having asked everyone to use wood for fuel, some of the citizens of Newark are reminded that their tumble-down fences and outbuildings would burn fine.

The people who won't go to work may expect to find themselves quite soon holed in a suit of clothes furnished by the state and no pay envelope either.

The motorists go out in the country to see the scenery, but the only thing they can tell you about when they get back is the condition of the roads.

One hundred and six thousand dollars paid for a Holstein calf. He should insist on being kept in the parlor while the folks stay out in the barn.

So far none of the automobile companies has issued any protest against the government's higher railroad passenger rates.

A lot of slackers are relying upon their poor health, brought about by carelessness or vices to exempt them from military service.

A good soft place to put the soft snap slackers into the mud of the trenches.

AN HONEST WAR.

It has been the curse of our past wars that they were tainted with the profiteering spirit. A multitude of vultures hovered over the army supply business, and were able to carry off great pickings of graft.

It is the distinguishing characteristic of the men running this war, that they are determined to have an honest one. The last Republican candidate for the Presidency was made the investigator of alleged aircraft frauds, to make certain that nothing be left uncovered.

Within a few days the Washington government announced that it is on the trail of an alleged nation wide conspiracy between agents of manufacturers and contractors.

Some of the regrettable delays in war work have occurred because the government was so determined to choke down profiteering. It was recognized that this would somewhat impede rapid work.

But it was thought the support of the war would be more nearly unanimous if it could be placed on a basis of absolute square dealing. The moment you allow a lot of grafters to enrich themselves, you undermine the morale of the people.

As a result of this stand, the scandals attaching to this war seem at this writing to be of relatively little importance, though the chances for fraud are a thousand times what they were in any previous war. It is one more reason for the feeling that the men in charge of things know what they are doing, and are basing their work on sound principles that in the long run will show their effectiveness.

Next Thursday the senate will vote on suffrage. The women think they have won the day. We hope they have. We are much interested in how the Ohio senators stand upon this issue. We can hardly think they will turn their backs on the women who are doing so much to save this republic from German autocracy. If it wasn't for them what would become of us in this war? We should be ruined. But outside all questions of mere contingency, we want women to vote because they will bring honor, purity, virtue, morality into politics and these things we need more than anything in the world. Of course, there are some people who do not believe enough in women to believe that. But we do; and we see that President Wilson does. The women who want the vote should have it, and it is nothing more than common justice to let them have it. There are none who love their country more than they do; and there are none who sacrifice more for it.

At wartime prices every man wants to get his money's worth, but cheap notoriety is dear at any price.

Not Sanitary.
Six-year-old Elizabeth is cultivating a war garden and has not yet been able to give her unqualified approval to some of Nature's methods. They NEED NOT BE ALARMED.
(Columbus Sunday Dispatch.)
Some of the more timid Frenchmen profess to feel alarmed at the great number of American mechanics that are being sent to that country to help take care of our army and keep it munitioned and supplied. They seem to believe that these workmen are sending thousands of them across—are to be used in the shops and factories of France, in displacing Frenchmen. They need not be alarmed; there is no foundation for any such belief.

These workmen are going to serve this country in a thousand capacities, but they are not going to take the place of Frenchmen. They are not going to be put into French workshops, so Frenchmen can go to the trenches. And they are not going to remain in France when peace comes; they are going to return to their homes in this country and take their places in American shops and factories.

The thing now is to win the war—to put Germany out of business as a world menace. We are doing all we can to that end, and we find it necessary to send not only soldiers, but artisans to France. But these artisans do not threaten the industrial life of the nation, and the timid French critics will do well to recognize the fact. The chances are the Germans have undertaken to fight the French workers, anyway.

Spirit of the Press
Partly because of the U-boat activities, but largely because there is more freight to carry and more demand for ships, there has been a ship famine for at least three years. There will soon be ships in abundance. England has multiplied her shipyards since the beginning of the war and is now turning out ships twice as fast as the U-boats can destroy them. Other allied nations are busy building ships also, and soon there will be tonnage enough to haul everything that can be sent overseas. For a time the U-boats were a serious menace, but the allies have learned how to meet them, and nowadays they venture out at their peril. Modern contrivances will put an end to the U-boat menace, and in a few months more we will hear little or nothing about the submarine. —Memphis News-Schmitzer.

That the United States Public Health Service is a branch of the Treasury Department? It is under a commissioned medical officer, with the title of surgeon-general. The headquarters is in Washington. The Division of Scientific Research supervises field and laboratory investigations of filariasis, hookworm disease, leprosy, infantile paralysis, malaria, pellagra, trachoma, tuberculosis and typhoid fever, industrial and school hygiene, rural sanitation, public health administration, coastal waters, shellfish pollution, and water supplies and sewage. For this purpose field headquarters and laboratories are located at convenient places throughout the country. Purely technical studies are carried on at the Hygienic Laboratory in Washington, where are also conducted the tests of preparations necessary for the enforcement of the law regulating the sale of biological products in interstate traffic.

"MAY THERE BE NONE UNENLISTED ON THAT DAY"

President Wilson Issues Proclamation Calling For War Savings Stamp Pledges by June 28.

President Wilson has issued the following:

THIS WAR is one of nations—not of armies—and all of our 100,000,000 people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions if this nation is to play its full part in the conflict. The problem before us is not primarily a financial problem, but rather a problem of increased production of war essentials and the saving of the materials and labor necessary for the support and equipment of our army and navy.

Thoughtless expenditure of money for non-essentials uses up the labor of men, the products of the farm, mines and factories, and overburdens transportation, all of which must be used to the utmost and at their best for war purposes.

The great results which we seek can be obtained only by the participation of every member of the nation, young and old, in a national concerted thrift movement. I therefore urge that our people everywhere pledge themselves, as suggested by the secretary of the treasury, to the practice of thrift to serve the government to their utmost in increasing production in all fields, necessary to the winning of the war; to conserve food and fuel and useful materials of every kind; to devote their labor only to the most necessary tasks; and to buy only those things which are essential to individual health and efficiency; and that the people, as evidence of their loyalty, invest all that they can save in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. The securities issued by the treasury department are so many of them within the reach of every one that the door of opportunity in this matter is wide open to all of us. To practice thrift in peace times is a virtue and brings great benefit to the individual at all times; with the desperate need of the civilized world today for materials and labor with which to end the war, the practice of individual thrift is a patriotic duty and a necessity.

I appeal to all who now own either Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps to continue to practice economy and thrift and to appeal to all who do not own government securities to do likewise and purchase them to the extent of their means. The man who buys government securities transfers the purchasing power of his money to the United States government until after this war, and to that same degree does not buy in competition with the government.

I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before the 28th of June to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the government; and to do this as far as possible through membership in War Savings Societies. The 28th of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day!

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

The Graham Drug Store.—During the past four years I have been badly troubled with my stomach and digestion. Very poor appetite and extremely nervous. Was losing strength and flesh. Had severe rheumatic pains and was in fear of bad results. Very poor sleeper and was weak. Gas forming on my stomach caused pains around my heart.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few cents is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Our Boys and Girls

Thumb or finger sucking is bad for a child and should be attended to at once. The thumb and finger must be persistently removed from the mouth and the baby's attention diverted to something else. The sleeve may be pinned or sewed down over the fingers of the offending hand for several days or nights, or the hand may be put into a cotton mitten. The baby's hands should be set free now and then to save unnecessary strain on his nerves as possible, but with the approach of bedtime the hand must be covered. Much work and confusion can be avoided when the children understand at night, if each one is made the possessor of a small hat or clothes tree. Their clothing will be well aired, the room kept in neatness and order and everything will be ready in its place in the morning. Children love these accessories and it is a good way to teach them cleanliness and hygiene.

Children may be taught to use individual judgment from early infancy. When he should be taught to choose certain paths of action for himself. If he is continually and absolutely forbidden to do this and that, he is sometimes seriously handicapped later because he does not know how to use his own reasoning faculties in making these choices. On the other hand, obedience is one of the most important lessons for children to learn. For parents and teachers who are fussy and restless are usually either uncomfortable in some way because they have not been properly fed, are sick or have been indulged too much.

Milady's Boudoir

Caring for the hair requires a wide range of patience and some practical knowledge. Professional assistance is not absolutely necessary, though occasionally one might prefer to have the trained hands of the hair dresser. Indeed, every woman should take particular delight in caring for her own tresses. Airing the hair is quite as necessary a treatment as the steam pack and the best method for thorough airing is the traditional one hundred strokes, afforded by the use of a good brush. While this is of course a splendid treatment, brushing the hair is hardly sufficient to thoroughly air it. Using a long toothed comb is the best method for thorough airing the scalp and it would seem that most women did not realize the importance of this fact, for they consider that brushing the hair is all that is necessary. They do not realize that brushing the hair only affords airing through the length and that the scalp is not reached. The necessary for the air to reach the scalp also. If the scalp is in a healthy condition it follows that growth will increase. For effectively cleansing the hair the use of a fine toothed comb, at least once in twenty-four hours, is recommended. In that it cleans the scalp and also allows the hair to get to the roots. Another simple way to air the hair and scalp is by parting the hair into strands and gently shaking it, thereby affixing it and stimulating the circulation. An excellent method of improving the growth is lather and shampooing the hair.

The simple exercise of rubbing the scalp. The fingers are spread apart and rubbed firmly but gently, taking only part of the scalp at a time. In order to loosen the entire scalp the fingers are moved in all parts, and eventually it moves with very little difficulty.

There is nothing more beautiful in the human body than a smooth arm, tapering and white, which ends in a small tapering hand with palms that are red and supple. The wrist should be small and rounded and not bony. But the arms and hands require a great deal of attention to be kept in such a condition, for if neglected they become roughened and discolored and the arms are in danger of becoming too fat or too thin.

A well rounded arm is the result of proper exercise. The Indian clubs, if used a few minutes each day, will do more toward perfecting the arms than any other form of exercise. They pull the fingers, stretch the palms of the hands, fill out the upper arm both before and after, and give strength to the forearm. The beauty of this exercise is that one needs not always use the Indian clubs. They can be used when wearing a blouse that has a comfortable arm size.

The clubs for women and girls need not weigh more than half a pound each. Heavy clubs develop too much muscle, and nothing robs the symmetry of an arm as an overdeveloped muscle.

Smooth arms, white and clear, can be attained by what is called the starch bath. This should be given every day if the arms are exposed every evening. After bathing the arms with warm water and pure soap, rinse them with cold water. Before drying, rub thoroughly with ordinary washing starch. Then rinse the starch off with cold water and dry them thoroughly. The arms will be as smooth as those of a baby.

The arms or hands become stained, lemon juice will remove the spots. Cut a lemon in half and use as you would a sponge. Powder on the arms is not pretty unless it is used to powder the face. The arms will be as smooth as those of a baby.

MAY SOON EXHAUST MEN IN CLASS ONE

The draft board is engaged in mailing out the questionnaires to the men over 21 years of age who recently registered. Today they mailed out questionnaires numbered 56 to 110, inclusive.
The board has not been informed as to the quota from Newark which will be required in the new call of 12,000 men from Ohio for July 22. If the quota are assigned as in the past the remainder of class I will be exhausted. This will probably be filled by the reclassification which is to take place July 1st.

THE COURTS

Asks Restraining Order.
A petition was filed today in common pleas court by George Heil against Charles Crooks, stating that the plaintiff is the owner of 138 acres in Newark township, and that 24 acres of the same are planted in wheat, which is ready to cut. The plaintiff says that the defendant is about to enter the ground to cut the wheat and that he also claims an interest in the same. An order is sought to restrain the defendant from cutting and claiming an interest in the above-named wheat.

Marriage Licenses.

Divorce Petition.
A petition for divorce has been filed in common pleas court by Dora Martin vs. Isaac Martin. The petition states they were married September 21, 1916, and there are no children. The plaintiff charges desertion, failure to provide and gross neglect. She asks for a divorce and all other proper relief. Her maiden name was Dora Ireland.

Viewing Ditch.
The county commissioners on Tuesday morning were viewing the Vorris-Beem ditch case. The petition for a ditch was filed on June 3. The ditch is located in Lima township.

CRITICISES THE WAR DEPARTMENT.
Washington, June 26.—Senator Fall of New Mexico vigorously criticized the war department attitude. He said there is an impression in the minds of some people that it would take more food and ammunition in France for a man who is without dependents than for a man with a wife and five children who has been inducted into military service. Senator Chamberlain said he was not altogether in favor of all the views of the secretary of war, adding that if he had his way he would have 2,500,000 men in France with all possible speed.

"If I thought the secretary of war was small enough and the chief of staff was base enough to oppose this on the grounds that an election is coming I would repudiate the recommendations of both of them," declared Senator Chamberlain.

NEW SECRETARY PUBLIC WORKS.
Washington, June 26.—Attorney J. A. Sherar of Columbus, former state automobile registrar, has been appointed secretary of the state department of public works to succeed William J. Huie, Wellston, resigned.

INSPECTORS APPOINTED.
Columbus, June 25.—These inspectors were appointed today by the state liquor licensing board: Edwin B. Patterson, Columbus; Clinton C. Barton, Circleville; Thomas F. McElroy, Ottawa; Jesse P. Pochard, Hamilton; William West, Portsmouth; and Peter Hosler, Findlay.

UNABLE TO OBTAIN MORE INFORMATION

Washington, June 26.—Minister Caldwell at Tiberan has advised the state department under date of June 24 that he has been unable to obtain further information regarding the reported seizure of the American consulate and looting of an American hospital by Turkish troops at Tabriz, Persia.

The report of the Tabriz incident reached the state department a week ago today and so far all efforts to get an official account with details have been unavailing.
Yesterday the department announced that a third request had been sent to the Swedish government seeking an explanation from Constantinople. It is taken for granted here that the fact there has been no reply from neutral governments is due to their inability to obtain a statement from Turkey.

ARMY UMPIRED IN THIS CITY FOR THE OHIO-PENN LEAGUE.
(Associated Press Telegram)
London, June 26.—King George is learning to throw a baseball in preparation for his appearance at the game between American teams July 4, when he will pitch out the first ball. At the request of the king, Arlie Latham, a former big league player who will umpire the game, sent the king a regulation baseball a few days ago. The next day Latham called at the palace and gave the king a brief lesson as to how it should be handled. The proper form in pitching was rather hard for the king to get, as he is used to a different type of throwing, as in cricket.

Ivory Phonograph Needles.
The phonograph stylus of vegetable ivory has a decided advantage over the old wooden needle, the usefulness of which is finished when it has played one record. The ivory point will stand the wear of six records, then when it has been filed over the bevel end can be used on six more. The vegetable ivory is produced by a Central and South American growth, the phytelaps palm, which produces large clusters of seeds.

PHOSPHORUS STRENGTHENS AND VITALIZES EVERY NERVE AND ORGAN OF THE HUMAN BODY

Says Doctor Who Prescribes Ordinary Phosphated Malt for Weak, Nervous, Ruddy, Anemic People.
Boston, Mass.—Without phosphorus, says Dr. Reid, good health is impossible. Phosphorus strengthens and vitalizes every nerve and organ of the human body. Without it even plants will not grow. More phosphorus is a common need of both men and women, though few realize it. Most of them believe that stomach, liver or kidney trouble, or a lack of iron in the blood, is making them sick. When people come to me nervous and run down and irritable, and everything looks blue, and it seems there is nothing but trouble, I prescribe ordinary phosphated malt, which not only supplies phosphorus, but brings malt, one of the best known tonics and tissue builders, to the aid of the wasting tissues. I have seen it double emaciated men and mental activity in less than ten days' time, and in cases where nothing else had proved to be of real value. I have seen it bring roses to the cheeks of pale, nervous, overworked women, and the crimson blood of health and a smile of happiness to the faces of children recovering from illness. In our daily lives, phosphated malt came to me physically run down and on the verge of mental collapse. He found no occasion in life, his daily work had become drudgery and he got no rest or recreation from his sports and holidays. He could neither sleep nor keep his mind on his work. I advised him to eat less and take two five-grain tablets of phosphated malt after meals. In less than ten days he walked into my office full of vim and vigor—his eyes bright, his step firm and buoyant and his manner that of a man of twenty-five, though he was well past fifty.
Physicians everywhere know the value of phosphorus and almost every worker and lover of the human body, a remarkable tissue builder, especially adapted to the needs of nursing mothers and weak, anemic women. Combined with phosphorus and phosphates as in phosphated malt, it nourishes the body and aids the system to turn food into living tissue. The old liquid forms of malt are inconvenient to take and most of them contain alcohol, which causes a needless stimulation after a few days of depressing reaction. Phosphated malt retains the nutritive properties of malt without the evil effects of alcohol. It is a powerful tonic, produces such astonishing results that I prescribe it in my practice, recommend it to my friends and take it myself. After a course of phosphated malt you awake in the morning feeling refreshed and vigorous and rise ready to begin the day's work with redoubled confidence and energy.
NOTE—To find out what phosphated malt will do for you get a package and learn for yourself, or ask a friend who has used it, or get the formula on every package—then ask your doctor. In our daily lives, phosphated malt have such confidence in it that they guarantee it will double the endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in ten days' time or the price will be refunded. They insist that all druggists sell it subject to this guarantee. It is dispensed by druggists everywhere, and especially in Newark by T. J. Evans.

RAISING OF AGE LIMIT

secured by reduction of the age limit—they suggested it be made 20 years, instead of the present minimum of 21.

Secretary Baker, it was said, expressed merely his personal views and those of his military advisers and did not suggest the opinion of President Wilson on the question, although it had been reported that the President also opposes immediate legislation.

Secretary Baker said an "enlarged" program for the army is planned, in a formal statement made after he had been closeted with the committee for nearly three hours with his aides.

"I presented to the committee statements," said Mr. Baker, "that for the present there are enough men in Class 1 sufficient for our prospective needs and when the enlarged program of the United States is ready for presentation to Congress we will, at the same time, have complete data on which to base any recommendations for change in the age limits of the draft."

After Secretary Baker and General March, chief of staff, had opposed revision of draft age limits and announced that within sixty or ninety days the war department would submit to Congress a new and enlarged army program, the Senate military committee today decided to oppose any legislation to change the draft ages.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, gave figures stating that in August when the final call on men in Class 1 will have exhausted that class, there will be 3,300,000 men in the army, and the highest estimate of the number of American troops which will be in France by that time is 1,450,000.

In asking that the draft legislation go over for the present, Secretary Baker and General March said that within 60 or 90 days, probably about the middle of August, after the proposed recess of Congress, the administration will submit a new comprehensive army program, covering not only the number of men it is proposed to raise, but also dealing with shipping and other problems.

BRILLIANT ATTACK OF AMERICANS

field of battle if the speech of Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann is an indication. He declared that peace must come through negotiations and said that the appearance on European fronts of soldiers from overseas had made this necessary. The secretary could give no idea of when the war would end. His effort was received coldly by the reichstag.

The official view in Washington was that the speech was a peace move and that Germany now invites proposals from the entente. It is felt that the move is similar to others which have followed German or Austrian failures to bring a quick decision in the field.

On the other hand, Germany still moves forward in her conquest of Russia. It is reported that 3000 German troops have been landed at Poti, a trans-Caucasian port on the Black Sea, which has rail connections with the important centers of Tiflis, Batum and Baku. Batum is in the hands of the Turks.

VOLUNTEERS ARE WANTED ON FARMS OVER THE COUNTRY

Unless volunteers appear to help on Licking county farms there is going to be a great waste of crops, for the reason that many farmers will be unable to harvest same. It is a fact which is generally known that there has been a great exodus of farm boys within the past few months, hundreds of them having been drafted into the service of their country.

It is also a fact which is not generally known that it is a problem with the farmers, how these boys can be replaced. The help must come from the cities. Men up in years, unable to do the work of former days, have been left almost helpless as far as farm labor is concerned.
The hay fields are ready, the wheat must be cut and harvested and the corn must be cultivated. It means much in the prosecution of the great war, for our soldier boys and those of our Allies must have food.

In other cities and town business men and clerks, county officials and even judges on the bench are volunteering for farm work. The farmers of Licking county need help and it is up to their city brothers to furnish it.

An office has been opened where volunteers will be received in the rooms of County Farm Agent Mowls in the Hunter and Baker block, and by calling up the agent you can be registered for work. The telephone number is 1958.

Now, Mr. Town Man, if you have a farmer friend, call him up and offer your services. If not, call up the county agent and he will place you.

Mr. Farmer, we want you to avail yourself of this service; we want to help you.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Mrs. J. W. Albright has received the following letter from her son, Corporal Edgar Albright of Battery C, 134th F. A., Camp Upton, New York.

Camp Upton, N. Y., June 19, '18.
Dear Folks—Well, I'm all settled down in the new camp again. There is a very large canteen at this post.
They handle anything from needles to tapioca. We are quarantined in wooden barracks and have iron cots with real springs to sleep on. It is the best sleeping accommodations we have had in over a year.

There is just one thing to mar the pleasure, and that is being in quarantine. We had been out of quarantine for six days, and today we were placed under again for ten days to fill out our unexpired time on the last contract with mumps. There are just three of us, and we have a little room all to ourselves. Albert Parrill, from near Newark, and Melvin (Rexy) Fitzpatrick, Newark, and myself, William knows Fitzpatrick.

We had a fine trip up here. We came through Atlanta, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Delaware and New Jersey.
At Hamlet and Raleigh, N. C., the Red Cross gave us cigarettes, flowers and lemonade. At Washington, D. C., they gave us playing cards, cigarettes and ice cream, and at Philadelphia they gave us the same thing. At New York City we got candy and cigarettes. We came through in the day time the following cities: Opelika, West Point in Alabama; Atlanta in Georgia; Hamlet and Raleigh in North Carolina; Washington, D. C., (where we saw Washington's monument and the Capitol); Philadelphia, Penn.; Wilmington, Delaware; Baltimore, Md.; Newark, New Jersey and New York City. We could see hardly anything at New York for it was in the evening. We came clear under the river at New York on the train.

Some one said the tunnel was three miles long. An electric engine took us under. As near as I can tell Camp Upton is in the Center of Long Island. But mail addressed to Camp Upton, N. Y., will reach me. We came through South Carolina and most of Virginia at night. Richmond Va., we came through early in the morning. We crossed the Potomac river. It was wide and pretty. We also crossed over a little end of Chesapeake Bay.

I enjoyed the whole trip immen-sely. It was one of the great pleasures of a soldier. When we finally got here though I was awful dirty, and my head was so dirty I could pick the dirt out by handfuls.

If ever you are near a troop train and serving anything to the soldiers, you may see how good it makes them feel. I never fully appreciated the fact that the Red Cross is giving candy or a glass of lemonade served by a Red Cross lady with her white dress and Red Cross on it makes a soldier take a new lease on life.

It is almost too cold here for comfort. It is a sudden change from the sunny south to this climate. Some of the fellows even wear their overcoats.

We haven't received any mail yet.
I can't understand why. It should have been here before us.

Well, I can't think of anything else to write, so will close. Love to all.

EDGAR.

Editor of the Advocate: I received your letter and medal and was glad to receive it. I am wearing it on my neck and everybody that sees it wants me to give it to them. I am the only one in the battalion that received one. I am having a good time and things are going fine. I am on the rifle range and expect to finish next week.

The weather is fine and the drilling is good. When we first started to drill we worked 12 and 13 hours a day, but only 3 hours now.

I thank all of the people of Licking county for the medal and the Newark Advocate for sending it to me. Yours truly, Fred Beverley Duffill, Paris Island, S. C., Marine Barracks, Co. 80.

Editor of the Advocate: I wish to express my thanks to the people of dear old Licking county for the beautiful bronze medal which I received, and appreciate it very much.

It is admired very much by all my slaves. Sincerely yours, Louis Jeffers, Jr., Co. 11, Wissahickon Barracks, Cape May, N. J.

MEMORIAL DAY 1918

The General Memorial Committee for 1918 has held its final session, and desires to say through the press:

That the observance of Memorial Day this year in Newark was the most complete and satisfactory of all the observances of the day. More individuals and organizations participated in accomplishing this result than ever before.

The first observance feature was Memorial Day in the schools, in which the teachers, pupils, visitors from the patriotic orders and the speakers participated, making a total of more than a thousand persons.

Next came the Annual Memorial Day church services, which is attended by the Grand Army and its allied bodies. This year these organizations worshipped with St. John's Evangelical church, South Fifth street. More than two hundred persons participated on this occasion.

The mass of flowers came from the homes—largely through the school children and the teachers. The flowers were made into over 800 official bouquets by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and Daughters of Veterans. More than a thousand individuals had a part in the flower feature.

The participants in the two morning parades; the marchers, those who rode, the Hebron band, the field music, those who loaned autos, trucks, ambulances, and those who aided otherwise added more than another thousand.

The city and county officials, the police, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, business men, the press and other groups added a goodly number.

More than three hundred persons participated in the decoration of the soldiers' graves at Mt. Calvary and Cedar Hill cemeteries, the four special ceremonies at Cedar Hill and the afternoon program at the Auditorium.

And there were many hundreds present who were not assigned to special duties, who attended the various functions in the same patriotic spirit as those chosen for special work.

It is safe to estimate that more than five thousand different residents of Newark and vicinity took part in honoring the memory of the near eight hundred soldiers dead buried here. In the two cemeteries there is a total of about seven thousand graves—a little more than one soldier to each grave.

A Bit of History.
The people of Newark will be interested to know that the evolutionary work of the decorative work at Mt. Calvary and of the mornings of the parade, and the spirit of nationalism.

A decorative work of Memorial Day was exclusively done by the Spanish War Veterans. A few scholarship boys, a platoon of the 101st Infantry, and the people of the city participated in the parade. The marchers, the band, the field music, and the thousand who aided otherwise added more than another thousand.

As the old movement was rapidly becoming a thing of the past, the number of soldier graves becoming fewer, it became evident that a new plan for taking up this work must be devised. It was also evident that the work should be taken over by organizations that did not have within their structure a time limit of life. Also it was evident that the volume of decorative work must ever increase, and that the work should be systematized on military lines. The logical conclusion was clear that the drilled, disciplined and uniformed bodies could best carry on this patriotic task.

Most of such companies were part of secret orders. These different orders claimed strong patriotic sentiments in their constitutional work, and yet nearly all of these organizations entertained strong sentiments of religion, race, color or educational animosities, and to such an extent that they would not march in a patriotic Memorial Day parade, nor decorate our soldiers' graves if the other fellow was there. The solution of this difficult problem was taken up by Comrade F. G. Steele, who has been at work on it for years.

Little by little the barriers fell, and this year the last one came down and on May 30th in the morning parade seven secret orders marched harmoniously, in one division, in column of fours, the marching formation of the United States Army, and under the National flag of the United States only. They continued the march to Cedar Hill cemetery, and there each organization, under its own officers, decorated the graves of at least one of the thirteen decorative sections into which the cemetery is divided.

The first general observance of Memorial Day was instituted by a general order issued in 1858 by Gen.
John A. Logan, first national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. At first only the dead soldiers of the Union Army of the Civil War were thus honored, but soon the soldier dead of all our wars were honored alike. It should always be remembered that the nations that forget their soldier dead are on the way to their own death.

for 1918 expresses its appreciation to everyone who was any way aided in making the observance of Memorial Day for 1918 so successful.
